- You must be enrolled at least halftime in order for your financial aid to be disbursed. Some scholarships may require full-time enrollment. Refer to "Enrollment requirements" at our web site www.ucsd.edu/finaid
- You must meet the satisfactory academic progress requirements for financial aid recipients
- Direct Loan disbursements may be reduced by 1.072% due to origination and default fees. Direct PLUS and/or Direct Grad PLUS loan disbursement(s) may be reduced by up to 4.288%.
- If your Direct Loan is not at the grade level maximum, you may be able to increase your Direct Loan if you decline all or part of your Federal Work-Study, Perkins or University Loan
- Pending the availability of funds, University Loan awards may be transferred to Federal Work-Study, upon your written request
- The work study program provides jobs for students with financial need, allowing them to earn funds to meet their expenses. Jobs are available both on and off campus. All job referrals are handled through the Job Opportunities Program of the Career Service Center. Further information on the Work Study Program is available at our web site www.ucsd.edu/finaid.
- Programs and amounts are subject to change due to federal, state, and university funding limitations, changes in law, policy or university procedure, and updated or corrected information.
